

Solid Comfort

Made in USA

Environmental Mission Statement

At Solid Comfort, we believe there is a direct correlation between the well being of our environment, economy and society. We are dedicated to the health and safety of our ecosystem, along with the employees and members of the communities in which we live, work and travel.

We have been observant of environmental stewardship since the start of our business which is exemplified by ongoing implementation of sustainable practices within our core business strategy and manufacturing processes. Minimizing waste makes good business sense and is nothing new to us.

Our responsibility lies within designing sustainable products and production processes through knowledge, collaboration with customers and partnering with equally responsible suppliers.

Our commitment has been to continuously exceed all Federal, State and Local environmental regulations. Other examples of our commitment include:

- Production centrally located within the U.S. reducing carbon impact.
- Replaceable parts construction reducing the need for replacing complete units in the event of damage by guests.
- Products are delivered blanket-wrapped reducing packaging waste disposal at the job-site.
- Water based UV finish with no harmful emissions or off gases which is supported by a fully recyclable system with no waste.
- Utilization of FSC (Forest Stewardship Council) certified wood materials.
- Exceeding the requirements of current California (CARB) Airborne Toxic Control Measures.
- Flake board is EPP certified to the accredited and internationally based Grademark Program which follows the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) Guide 65 for quality control programs. The principle requirement for EPP certification is compliance with the utilization of 100% recovered or recycled raw materials, and adherence to CARB Phase 11 formaldehyde standards.
- Use of laminates which have the highest recycled content and lowest emissions exceeding requirements for Indoor Air Quality and Greenguard Certification.
- Waste materials are recycled for local animal bedding

3931 37th Avenue South
Fargo, ND 58104

800-473-0221

SolidComfort.com

Implemented Microsoft Sharepoint and 2020 Technologies Enterprise Resource Planning software to reduce the need of paper files. All files will be digital and accessible from any computer from anywhere in the world. This also eliminates the need for paper communication with customers.

Quality casegoods for the hospitality industry since 1981